REFUSED PERMISSION TO ENTER TRAIN SHED, SUES

Tailor Says He Was Prevented From Assisting Wife and Children on Train

Alleging that a gatekeeper in the Terminal station had forced him to remain outside of the gates when he went to see his wife and children off, and had arrested him with arrest, John Chalmers, tailor and importer in the McGonigle building, asked $5,000 damages from the Central of Georgia railroad and the Atlanta Terminal company before Judge Reid in the city court Wednesday.

Chalmers alleges that his wife and three little children, fifteen months, two and a half and three and a half years old, respectively, were going to Island, Fla., on the Central from Atlanta.

He states that tickets, both Pullman and transportation, were purchased for his wife and children. He was carrying the fifteen-month-old baby in one arm, and had a heavy grip in the other hand.

Two of the children had passed through the gate, the plaintiff alleges, when he was stopped by the gatekeeper who said he either had to have a ticket or a pass before he could go through.

He asked to be allowed at least to go and get the little children who had gone ahead alone, but the gatekeeper refused. Finally, said Mr. Chalmers, the gatekeeper told him he was under arrest, and walked with him to the station.

The plaintiff, according to the plaintiff's allegations, said to the gate-

LETTER MAY BE ATTACHED TO PARCEL POST PACKAGE

Burleson Issues Order Which Will Add to Popularity of the Service

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 18.—To further add to the popularity of the parcel post, Postmaster General Burleson today signed an order which will permit the attaching of a letter to a package when both bear their respective rates of postage and are addressed to the same individual. The sending of a communication with a parcel package heretofore has not been permissible.

Postal officials pointed out today that it often is highly desirable that a parcel and communication relating to it be delivered at the same time. The letter or communication, however, is not to be enclosed in the package but is to be outside in such a manner as to prevent its separation from the package. The new order is expected to enlarge considerably the parcel post service.

"For God's sake, let the people go through," which was then permitted.

Chalmers states that his wife was frail and ill at the time and could not have managed alone the baby or the heavy grip which he carried for her.

The defense states that Chalmers argued with the gatekeeper, saying that he would go through and that no one could stop him, and blocked the entrance to the gate until the keeper was forced to threaten to arrest him.

Atkinson & Born represent the plaintiff, while the defendants are represented by Boney, Brewster, Howell & Heyman.

NEW AMATEUR BASEBALL LEAGUE TO BE FORMED

There is to be this summer in Atlanta a new amateur baseball league. It will be known as the City Park Department league, will be composed of players not in any other league, and its games will be played on diamonds in various city parks.

When the baseball season is over, and the championship of this new league has been decided, the City Park Department will undertake to arrange a "world's series" with the pennant winning team in some other league.

Dan Carey, general manager of the park department, originated the idea, and he, City Clerk Walter Taylor and the city hall reporters of the three Atlanta newspapers are to constitute the league's official board of directors.

TAKEN NOT GUILTY IN MOCK TRIAL

Taft was principal speaker at the annual dinner of the Tammany County Bar association, where the trial was held.

The trial was presided by an informal discussion of proposed reform in court procedure.

LIFE'S OPPORTUNITIES ARE NOT TO BE PASSED OVER

Greatest Satisfaction Received in Doing Everything for the Best

One of the greatest satisfactions of life is to look back upon the opportunities which have presented themselves to you, and your record of achievement. If you can say "I have done all things well," your satisfaction is complete, but if you have here and there left something undone which would have benefited you materially, or would have improved your present condition, you feel the responsibility is your own, and no one but yourself can be blamed for your present condition, or lack of position.

Not only is this true of the battle of life, but is typical of work done in The Atlanta Journal's Big Easter Gift Campaign. Life itself is a contest, and to those who work the hardest and are possessed of determination, go the biggest and best of life's prizes. Likewise in The Journal's campaign will go the best of the many handsome awards to the candidates who appreciate their opportunities and put forth the greatest effort.

Every division in the territory has a list of awards all its own, and these will be awarded regardless of work done in the other divisions. This means that a candidate who in one division does not compete against candidates in other districts, except for the Grand Capital Gift of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN GOLD and the Studebaker and Paige-Brunswick automobiles. These last named awards are open to all, any one can win them, and the effort of winning is extremely small compared to the value of the award offered.

Unless each and every candidate works energetically and earnestly during these remaining four weeks, during which time the chance of victory will be many a look backward to where a subscription might have been secured and the balance of victory turned in his or her favor. The race is a very keen one, and under the fair conditions to all, the prizes will be eagerly fought for and the margin of victory but slight ones. Do not allow it to be said of you, Miss Candidate, that you overlooked, here and there, enough subscriptions to win. Rather let it be said that you did your best and the result could not have been changed by you.

NEGRO, HURT IN MANHOLE BY AUTOMOBILE, DIES

J. W. Richardson, Chauffeur of Machine, Fined $25.75 by Judge Broyles

Jonas Atwater, the negro workman for the Southern Bell Telephone company who was crushed by an automobile driven by J. W. Richardson, colored, into a manhole at Hunter and South Pryor streets, Tuesday morning, died Wednesday morning at the Grady hospital from his injuries.

Richardson, driver for A. F. Liebman, backed the machine over Atwater, who was sitting on the edge of the manhole, in which were cables of the telephone company.

Richardson was tried before Recorder Broyles at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, and fined $25.75. Now that Atwater is dead, he may be re-arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

BOARD SCORES SECRET REPORT ON SCHOOLS

Chamber of Commerce Criticized for Not Making Experts' Data Public

After severely criticizing the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce because of its refusal to make public the reports on the school system and other municipal departments prepared by an expert from the Russell Sage Foundation, the city board of education decided Tuesday afternoon that in the future it will allow no surveys of the schools by any one except on the condition that the board of education receive not only copies of the reports but of the full data on which the conclusions are based.

The subject was brought up at the called meeting of the board by W. H. Terrell in the course of a discussion as to the need of securing an adequate survey of the schools and the use of the board of education. The majority of the board members joined in the declaration that the action of the chamber of commerce in employing experts to make surveys, and then declining to make known the findings of the experts, tended to injure the schools and the city.

If there is anything seriously wrong we want to know it so we may remedy it," said Mayor Gilmer and if the public is entitled to know it, after such a survey has been ordered.

Major Quinn introduced three resolutions at the meeting which suggested the attitude and program of the board in regard to improving the school system. The resolutions provided for a unit for a rearrangement of grades so that pupils may complete the course of study in seven instead of eight years; for increasing the maximum number of pupils in a grade at forty instead of fifty; sixty and seventy at present; and for making necessary a complete change in the present district lines, and a third providing for the department of the normal study school from the high school and its connection with grammar schools in order to give more practical training to the teachers.

These resolutions were submitted and earnestly argued and referred to the schools and teachers' committee which is to formulate a report for the board.

REDIRECTING ARGUED. The question of redirecting the city was not allowed to pass without argument. A lengthy discussion brought out the statement that the crowded and unsatisfactory condition of the schools is due to the wrong distribution of the school population and the condition declared members of the board, has been brought about by the neglect and the habit of the board in yielding permission to a West End Sunday school to use the Lee Street school house for an overflow meeting Sunday, the first step toward making the schools of the city municipal religious as well as educational centers was taken.

Progressive Meeting.

By the result of the meeting the principles of the Progressive Party will be held at the Convention Hall of the Kimball House on Wednesday evening, March 18th, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of inaugurating the campaign in Georgia. A cordial invitation is extended to all sympathy with the movement to be present.

FULTON PROGRESSIVE LEAGUE (Adv.) CAREY READY TO EXPLAIN REMOVAL OF TREES

Calls Meeting of Objecting Residents of Grant Park Neighborhood

The city park department is now removing certain trees in Grant Park. Certain ladies and gentlemen residing in the Third ward near the park cannot see why the trees should be removed and are making strenuous objection. Dan Carey, general manager of the park department, can give good reasons why the trees should be removed. He believes the reasons will convince any sensible, reasonable person who will listen to them.

Therefore, Manager Carey has arranged for a meeting of the objecting ladies and gentlemen to be held in the Third ward Friday evening, and he will go before them and tell them why the trees are being removed. Manager Carey hopes and expects the meeting will succeed in two good results: First, to satisfy the objectors; second, to give those present a better understanding of park affairs from the standpoint of the city government.

The meeting will be held at the residence Mrs. D. H. Floyd, 79 Augusta avenue, at 8 o'clock.

MAYOR USES HIS VETO ON MATERIAL PURCHASE

Insists That Street and Sewer
Materials Be Bought Through Purchasing Agent

Taking the position that the recently created purchasing department of the city should purchase all supplies of whatever kind, just as the ordinance creating the department provides and requires, Mayor Woodward on Wednesday vetoed a resolution passed by general council last Monday authorizing the construction department to advertise for bids on the materials to be used in street and sewer construction work during the year 1914.

In the past it has been customary for the construction department to prepare the specifications for these materials, get the bids, and turn the bids over to the street committee and the sewer committee of general council for them to pass. The committees have then canvassed the bids, decided on the best and cheapest, and recommended to council that the contracts be awarded accordingly. The materials were bought in this manner a year at a time, and the contracts were made at the first of the year.

Last fall a purchasing agent was appointed, and the ordinance creating the position provided that all supplies purchased by the city, without any exception, should be purchased through this agent.

Mayor Woodward supported the ordinance and has supported the department and strengthened it by insisting that every dollar's worth of materials, supplies, provisions, etc., be bought according to the ordinance.

In the purchase of street and sewer materials, which amounts to several hundred thousand dollars annually, the mayor is determined that no exception shall be made. He anticipates that the general council will agree with his position and join with him in upholding the purchasing department. He points out that the street and sewer committees can open the bids just as these committees have done in the past, and advise with the purchasing agent as to the best and cheapest.

"Before the purchasing department was created," said the mayor, "the departments of the city were purchasing indiscriminately here and there and yonder. There was no system, no close watch on prices or quality of goods purchased, and the result was a huge waste. By making all purchases go through the purchasing agent and keeping a close check on that department, the city can save thousands of dollars every year. Already, this purchasing agent, in the few months since he started, has saved $2,000, which is more than enough to pay the expenses of his department for a whole year. If he can save in small purchases he ought to be able to do so in his big ones, such as street and sewer materials."

POLICE NEED MONEY TO GO AFTER NEGRO SLAYER

County Asked to Pay for Sending Officer to Savannah
for Gertie Parks

Lack of money for the transportation of an officer to Savannah and his return with a negro prisoner was all that remained in the way Wednesday of the punishment of a self-confessed murderer.

Chief Beavers was informed by the chief of police of Savannah that Gertie Parks, a negro twenty-two years old, had given himself up to the police of that city and asked to be sent back to Atlanta for trial as the slayer of Horace Reeves, another negro, last Christmas day. He said he shot the other negro in a drunken brawl, and that Reeves died a few days later.

Chief Beavers confirmed the facts in the case and wired the Savannah police to hold Parks until they could be further from him. Then he took up with the county the matter of expense in sending for the negro, the city police having no funds for the purpose.

Women's Ready-to-Wear

In the Season's Established Modes

At ALLEN'S

To be a very young store and yet one of acknowledged leadership is apt to suggest the question—Why?

While we're only five years old, we're not small. We've grown phenomenally, and we're today more amply provided with the newest and best of Women's Ready-to-Wear than many much larger establishments around us in the south.

The "why" is answered in the fact that we happily belong to the biggest buying plan of its kind in the world. We buy in the thousands where others calculate in hundreds. Thru this advantage we give you better things at prices more moderate than smaller buyers could afford. That's a "why" very logically reasoned.

One who buys thus surely has other benefits—that of the very choicest fashions—meaning first choice when importers put forth their best production for the purpose of selling them. A very live demonstration—which will impress you is the abundance, the variety and the richness in

SIMPLE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff, and that is to dissolve it, and you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain common liquid arvon, from the nearest drug store (this is all you will need) apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely remove it, and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find all itching and digging gone, and you will enjoy the softness of your hair will be itching, lustrous, glossy, and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. If you value your hair, you should stop the dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only destroys the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it grizzly, brittle, and, in fact, worthless. Use it, and everybody notices it.—(Adv.)

Atlanta Concerns Are Handicapped in Selling Supplies to Fort McPherson

It was brought out Tuesday at a meeting of the Wholesale Trade Committee of the Atlanta chamber of commerce that Atlanta merchants who are handicapped in selling supplies to Fort McPherson in order to complete the New York market.

The reason for this, according to the committee's information, is that Fort McPherson is under the command of the First division, which has headquarters on Governor's Island, New York, and buys supplies from that point.

The only supplies bought by the Fort McPherson commissary are perishable supplies, which constitute only a small portion of the goods supplied to the fort.

The meeting of the committee was held for the purpose of investigating the reasons why Atlanta merchants do not get the same advantages as they formerly did in selling supplies to Fort McPherson.

After a thorough discussion of the subject, the committee elected a subcommittee, headed by Mr. J. W. Knight, chairman, Lynn Fort, to appoint a subcommittee of the first division, with investigation and report back. The subcommittee will probably be ready to report next week.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THOMPSON W. BURGESS.

To gossip is to talk about other people, and that, they are, and what they have done or what they are going to do. As for gossiping, and Winona Bluebird were gossiping, and Winona Bluebird was in a little red cherry tree and right under the bird's feet. Winona had just arrived from down south to spread the glad news that Mistress Spring was on her way and would soon reach the Green Meadows, the Green Forest, and the Smiling Pool.

Winona was sure to see Winona in the heart of Mistress Spring, and soon just a little way ahead of her. When the little redwood and forest people first saw his beautiful blue coat, or hear his soft, sweet whistle, they knew that Mistress Spring is surely on the way and not very far behind, and then great joy lit their hearts and their eyes. Sister South Wind to prepare the way, Winona Bluebird, and after her beautiful Mistress Spring.

Peter Rabbit was high of curiosity, just as he always is. You see it was long time since he had last seen Winona Bluebird and all the other Winona who had gone to the far away south when the leaves had dropped to the fall, and of course he wanted to know all about his good friends and neighbors, how they were, what they had been doing and when they were coming back. And Winona wanted to know all about how Peter and Reddy Fox and all the other little people who had not gone to the beautiful south had spent the long winter. So there was a great deal to talk about. Yes, indeed, there was a great deal to talk about. Winona felt that he ought to be having a great feast on the Green Meadows and the Green Forest, where other little people could see him and hear him and so know that he had arrived, and he had traveled a very, very great distance and he was tired and he was rested, and while he waited he was waiting.

"Is Ol' Mistah Buzzard on his way here?" asked Peter eagerly. "Not yet," replied Winona. "He won't start until after he is sure that Mistress Spring has got here," replied Winona.

Peter looked a little disappointed, for there is a great deal to be seen and heard when Mistress Spring has got here. Peter looked a little disappointed, for there is a great deal to be seen and heard when Mistress Spring has got here.
